

Let the Employee Discount Program Work for You

The Employee Discount program provides significant savings on everyday purchases and it's free to you as a First Data employee. You can log onto the discount program, from home or work at <http://firstdata.corporateperks.com>. If you are not already registered, simply put in your employee ID and initial password/company code: FDC.

Here are just a few of the discounts you will find:

- Sprint cell phones and service offers
- Entertainment and Sporting events
- Theme park discounts
- Laptops and computers
- Flowers and gifts
- Back to school deals on dorm room furniture

Once registered on the site, you can take advantage of discount opportunities through major online stores, including special deals through Overwhelming Offers (OO's) and WOW points:

- Overwhelming Offers (OO's) - are like Black Friday deals you see during the holidays. Instead of standing in line, hoping to be one of the lucky ones that snatch up that great deal, you register ahead of time on line. If you register in time, you get a deep discount on the featured daily item and you can use any earned WOW points to pay for it. One of the Overwhelming Offers last week was a $50 Best Buy Gift Card for $25 to the first 100 OO's registered winners.
- WOW points – are similar to perks points or mileage points you may be receiving on your personal credit card. Many offers on the discount site will state, 2, 4 or even 10 x WOW points. When you purchase an item through the discount site, your account will be credited with WOW points. You can use these points to purchase additional goods and services on the site or convert them to cash. 100 WOW points = $1.00.
- Visit the information center on the discount site at <https://firstdata.corporateperks.com/feedback/index/uSource/CCRMB> to read more about OO and WOW points.
