

Health Advocate: A Valuable Resource

Health Advocate has a team of health care professionals that you can access by phone or get answers to a variety of health related issues on their website.

The best way to get answers to your medical questions and claims issues is to contact one of the professionals at Health Advocate. Health Advocate will assist with medical and dental claim questions, explanations of benefits, finding doctors and more. The Health advocate number is 866-695-8622.

First Data is committed to wellness and employees will find quite a variety of topics and articles on everything from weight loss to condition management such as diabetes. The website is easy to use and one of the great things about the information found on Health Advocate's website is not worrying about the source of the information. Take a tour of the Health Advocate website at:

www.healthadvocate.com/members.